

Save Lafayette Trees v. City of Lafayette

Court of Appeal of California, First Appellate District, Division Three

October 23, 2018, Opinion Filed

A154168

Reporter

28 Cal. App. 5th 622 *; 239 Cal. Rptr. 3d 222 **; 2018 Cal. App. LEXIS 958 ***; 2018 WL 5262888

SAVE LAFAYETTE TREES et al., Plaintiffs and Appellants,
v. CITY OF LAFAYETTE, Defendant and Respondent; PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, Real Party in Interest and Respondent.

Prior History: [***1] Superior Court of Contra Costa County, No. MSN17-1142, Steven K. Austin, Judge.

Core Terms

subdivision, city's, planning and zoning law, ordinance, sections, statute of limitations, cause of action, challenging, notice, tree removal, days, conditional use permit, zoning ordinance, general plan, trial court, land use, requirements, removal, zoning, approving, decisions, demurrer, variance, limitations period, sustain a demurrer, timely file, preempted, statutes, alleges, matters

Case Summary

Overview

HOLDINGS: [1]-A city's decision to remove protected trees was a decision relating to conditional uses, variances, or other permits as listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903, and thus the limitations period in Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), for challenges to such decisions applied, rendering a challenge untimely; [2]-A local ordinance that provided for a longer limitations period was preempted because an express conflict existed; [3]-The city provided adequate public notice of the meeting at which the decision was made; [4]-Section 65009 did not govern a California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), Pub. Resources Code, § 21000 et seq., cause of action, which was timely because the shorter limitations period of § 65009 conflicted with the more specific CEQA limitations period in Pub. Resources Code, §§ 21167, subd.

\(a\), 21167.6, subd. \(a\), and the provisions could not be reconciled.

Outcome

Affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded.

LexisNexis® Headnotes

---

Civil Procedure > Appeals > Standards of Review > De
Novo Review

Civil Procedure > ... > Responses > Defenses, Demurrers
& Objections > Demurrers

Civil Procedure > ... > Pleadings > Amendment of Pleadings > Leave of Court

HNI Standards of Review, De Novo Review

A trial court's decision to sustain demurrers without leave to amend is reviewed de novo. In conducting the review, the appellate court exercises its independent judgment to determine whether the action can proceed under any legal theory. Leave to amend should not be granted if the pleadings disclose the action is barred by a statute of limitation.

Business & Corporate Compliance > ... > Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Comprehensive & General
Plans

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Conditional
Use Permits & Variances

Business & Corporate Compliance > ... > Real Property
Law > Zoning > Comprehensive Plans

HN2 Land Use & Zoning, Comprehensive & General Plans

California's planning and zoning law, Gov. Code, § 65000 et seq., establishes the authority of most local government entities to regulate the use of land. Under the planning and zoning law, each county and city must adopt a comprehensive, long-term general plan for the physical development of the county or city. Gov. Code, § 65300. The general plan consists of a statement of development policies setting forth objectives, principles, standards, and plan proposals. Gov. Code, § 65302. Subordinate to a general plan are zoning laws, which regulate the geographic allocation and allowed uses of land. Zoning laws regulate land uses in two basic ways. Some uses are permitted as a matter of right if the uses conform to the zoning ordinance. Other sensitive land uses require discretionary administrative approval pursuant to criteria in the zoning ordinance. They require a conditional use permit.

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

HN3 Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

To provide certainty for property owners and local governments regarding decisions by local agencies made pursuant to California's planning and zoning law, Gov. Code, § 65000 et seq., the Legislature has enacted a short, 90-day statute of limitations, applicable to both the filing and service of challenges to a broad range of local zoning and planning decisions. Gov. Code, § 65009, subs. \(a\)\(3\), \(c\)\(1\).

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

HN4 Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

The matters listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903, include conditional uses or other permits when the zoning ordinance provides therefor and variances from the terms of the zoning ordinance. § 65901, subd. \(a\). Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), is to be applied broadly to all types of challenges to permits and permit conditions, as long as the challenge rests on a decision of a local authority relating to a permit or seeks to determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any condition attached to a conditional use permit, or any other permit. In short, an action challenging any decision by a legislative body regarding a variance, a conditional use permit, or other permit provided for by a local zoning ordinance must be filed and served within 90 days of the decision.

Business & Corporate Compliance > ... > Real Property
Law > Zoning > Variances

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Conditional
Use Permits & Variances

HN5 Zoning, Variances

Lafayette Mun. Code, § 6-1704, requires a permit for the removal of a protected tree and Lafayette Mun. Code, §§ 6-1706, 6-1707, authorize the imposition of reasonable conditions on the permit. Depending on the level of permit sought, either the planning and building department director or, among others, the planning commission or city council, is charged with approving the permit. Under Lafayette Mun. Code, § 6-1705(b)(5), an applicant may seek an exception to the requirements of the tree ordinance when the city must remove a protected tree to protect the health, safety and general welfare of the community.

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial
Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

HN6 Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

Although one of the three findings made by the Legislature with respect to Gov. Code, § 65009, relates to housing, nothing in § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\), restricts its application to decisions involving housing. Courts have interpreted the statute as applying to challenges to a broad range of local zoning and planning decisions.

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial
Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

HN7  Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

Gov. Code, § 65009, expressly incorporates the matters listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903, regardless of the legislative body charged with making the decision. The courts have rejected the notion that the reviewing body, rather than the underlying decision being reviewed, determines the applicability of § 65009. The language of § 65009 is broad. It covers any decision on the matters listed in §§ 65901, 65903.

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

HN8  Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

Gov. Code, § 65009, makes clear that no action or proceeding challenging a local legislative body's decision regarding matters listed in §§ 65901, 65903, shall be maintained unless it is filed and served within 90 days of the challenged decision. § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\).

Governments > State & Territorial Governments > Relations With Governments

HN9  State & Territorial Governments, Relations With Governments

Otherwise valid, local legislation that conflicts with state law is preempted by such law and is void. A conflict exists if the local legislation duplicates, contradicts, or enters an area fully occupied by general law, either expressly or by legislative implication. Local legislation is duplicative of general law when it is coextensive therewith. Similarly, local legislation is contradictory to general law when it is inimical thereto.

Governments > Legislation > Interpretation

HN10  Legislation, Interpretation

As a general rule, when two statutes relate to the same subject, the more specific one will control unless they can be reconciled. When the two statutes can be reconciled, they must be construed in reference to each other, so as to harmonize the two in such a way that no part of either becomes surplusage.

Environmental Law > Land Use & Zoning > Judicial Review

Real Property Law > Zoning > Judicial Review

Environmental Law > Natural Resources & Public Lands > National Environmental Policy Act

HN11  Land Use & Zoning, Judicial Review

Requiring service within 90 days under Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), would impermissibly cut in half the 180-day period allowed for filing a California Environmental Quality Act, Pub. Resources Code, § 21000 et seq., action. That conflict cannot be reconciled.

Headnotes/Summary*Summary

[*622] CALIFORNIA OFFICIAL REPORTS SUMMARY

The trial court sustained, without leave to amend, a demurrer to a petition for writ of mandate challenging a city's decision to remove protected trees. (Superior Court of Contra Costa County, No. MSN17-1142, Steven K. Austin, Judge.)

The Court of Appeal affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded. The court held that the decision related to conditional uses, variances, or other permits (Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903), and thus the limitations period for challenges to such decisions (Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\)) applied, rendering the challenge untimely. A local ordinance that provided for a longer limitations period was preempted because an express conflict existed. The city provided adequate public notice of the meeting at which the decision was made. Section 65009 did not govern a California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) (Pub. Resources Code, § 21000 et seq.) cause of action, which was timely because the shorter limitations period of § 65009 conflicted with the more specific CEQA limitations period (Pub. Resources Code, §§ 21167, subd. \(a\), 21167.6, subd. \(a\)) and the provisions could not be reconciled. (Opinion by Pollak, J., with Siggins, P. J., and Ross, J.,* concurring.)

Headnotes

CALIFORNIA OFFICIAL REPORTS HEADNOTES

---

* Judge of the San Francisco Superior Court, assigned by the Chief Justice pursuant to article VI, section 6 of the California Constitution.

CA\(1\) (1)Zoning and Planning § 6—Operation and Effect of Plans and Regulations—Zoning Laws as Subordinate to General Plan.

California's planning and zoning law (Gov. Code, § 65000 et seq.) establishes the authority of most local government entities to regulate the use of land. Under the planning and zoning law, each county and city must adopt a comprehensive, long-term general plan for the physical development of the county or city (Gov. Code, § 65300). The general plan consists of a statement of development policies setting forth objectives, principles, standards, and plan proposals (Gov. Code, § 65302). Subordinate to a general plan are zoning laws, which regulate the geographic allocation and allowed uses of land. Zoning laws regulate land uses in two basic ways. Some uses are permitted as a matter of right if the uses conform to the zoning ordinance. Other sensitive land uses require discretionary administrative approval pursuant to criteria in the zoning ordinance. They require a conditional use permit.

CA\(2\) (2)Zoning and Planning § 13—Zoning Ordinances and Planning Enactments—Judicial Review—Statute of Limitations.

To provide certainty for property owners and local governments regarding decisions by local agencies made pursuant to California's planning and zoning law (Gov. Code, § 65000 et seq.), the Legislature has enacted a short, 90-day statute of limitations, applicable to both the filing and service of challenges to a broad range of local zoning and planning decisions (Gov. Code, § 65009, subds. \(a\)\(3\), \(c\)\(1\)).

CA\(3\) (3)Zoning and Planning § 30—Permits—Judicial Review—Statute of Limitations.

The matters listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903, include conditional uses or other permits when the zoning ordinance provides therefor and variances from the terms of the zoning ordinance (§ 65901, subd. \(a\)). Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), is to be applied broadly to all types of challenges to permits and permit conditions, as long as the challenge rests on a decision of a local authority relating to a permit or seeks to determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any condition attached to a conditional use permit, or any other permit. In short, an action challenging any decision by a legislative body regarding a variance, a conditional use permit, or other permit provided for by a local zoning ordinance must be filed and served within 90 days of the decision.

CA\(4\) (4)Zoning and Planning § 24—Permits—Removal of Trees.

Lafayette Mun. Code, § 6-1704, requires a permit for the removal of a protected tree and Lafayette Mun. Code, §§ 6-1706, 6-1707, authorize the imposition of reasonable conditions on the permit. Depending on the level of [*624] permit sought, either the planning and building department director or, among others, the planning commission or city council is charged with approving the permit. Under Lafayette Mun. Code, § 6-1705(b)(5), an applicant may seek an exception to the requirements of the tree ordinance when the city must remove a protected tree to protect the health, safety and general welfare of the community.

CA\(5\) (5)Zoning and Planning § 30—Permits—Judicial Review—Statute of Limitations—Applicability—Removal of Trees.

Although the city entered into an agreement approving the removal of trees under Lafayette Mun. Code, § 6-1705, rather than issuing a permit for their removal, there was no meaningful difference. Both were properly considered decisions relating to the matters listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903. Accordingly, the city's decision fell squarely within the scope of Gov. Code, § 65009. Arguments made to the contrary, seeking to avoid the conclusion that a challenge was untimely, were not persuasive.

[Cal. Real Estate Law & Practice (2018) ch. 283, § 283.02; Cal. Forms of Pleading and Practice (2018) ch. 579, Zoning and Planning, § 579.218.]

CA\(6\) (6)Zoning and Planning § 13—Zoning Ordinances and Planning Enactments—Judicial Review—Scope.

Although one of the three findings made by the Legislature with respect to Gov. Code, § 65009, relates to housing, nothing in § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\), restricts its application to decisions involving housing. Courts have interpreted the statute as applying to challenges to a broad range of local zoning and planning decisions.

CA\(7\) (7)Zoning and Planning § 30—Permits—Judicial Review—
Statute of Limitations—Applicability.

Gov. Code, § 65009, expressly incorporates the matters listed in Gov. Code, §§ 65901, 65903, regardless of the legislative body charged with making the decision. The courts have rejected the notion that the reviewing body, rather than the underlying decision being reviewed, determines the applicability of § 65009. The language of § 65009 is broad. It covers any decision on the matters listed in §§ 65901, 65903.

CA\(8\) (8)Zoning and Planning § 30—Permits—Judicial Review—
Statute of Limitations.

Gov. Code, § 65009, makes clear that no action or proceeding challenging a local legislative body's decision regarding matters listed in §§ 65901, 65903, shall be maintained unless it is filed and served within 90 days of the challenged decision (§ 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)).

CA\(9\) (9)Municipalities § 56—Ordinances—Validity—Conflict with Statutes—Test for Preemption—Duplication or Contradiction.

Otherwise valid, [*625] local legislation that conflicts with state law is preempted by such law and is void. A conflict exists if the local legislation duplicates, contradicts, or enters an area fully occupied by general law, either expressly or by legislative implication. Local legislation is duplicative of general law when it is coextensive therewith. Similarly, local legislation is contradictory to general law when it is inimical thereto.

CA\(10\) (10)Statutes § 52—Construction—Codes—Conflicting Provisions—General and Specific—Specific Provision Controlling unless Reconciliation Possible.

As a general rule, when two statutes relate to the same subject, the more specific one will control unless they can be reconciled. When the two statutes can be reconciled, they must be construed in reference to each other, so as to harmonize the two in such a way that no part of either becomes surplusage.

CA\(11\) (11)Zoning and Planning § 30—Permits—Judicial Review—
Statute of Limitations—Applicability—Conflict with California Environmental Quality Act.

Requiring service within 90 days (Gov. Code, § 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\)\(E\)) would impermissibly cut in half the 180-day period allowed for filing a California Environmental Quality Act (Pub. Resources Code, § 21000 et seq.) action. That conflict cannot be reconciled.

Counsel: Law Offices of Stephan C. Volker, Stephan C. Volker, Alexis E. Krieg, Stephanie L. Clarke and Jamey M.B. Volker for Plaintiffs and Appellants.

Best Best and Krieger, Malathy Subramanian and Sarah E. Owsowitz for Defendant and Respondent.

Miller Starr Regalia, George B. Speir and Arthur F. Coon for Real Party in Interest and Respondent.

Judges: Opinion by Pollak, J., with Siggins, P. J., and Ross, J.*, concurring.

Opinion by: Pollak, J.

Opinion

---

[**224] POLLAK, J.—Petitioners Save Lafayette Trees, Michael Dawson and David Kosters (collectively Save Lafayette Trees) appeal an order sustaining without leave to amend a demurrer to their petition for writ of mandate challenging the City of Lafayette's (city) approval of a letter of agreement for tree removal (agreement) with real party in interest Pacific Gas & Electric Company (PG&E). Save Lafayette Trees contends the trial court erred in [*626] concluding that service of its petition for a writ of mandate was untimely under Government Code<sup>1</sup> section 65009. While we agree with the trial court that the claims asserted under the planning and zoning law (§ 65000 et seq.), the city's general plan, and the city's tree protection ordinance (Lafayette Mun.

* Judge of the San Francisco Superior Court, assigned by the Chief Justice pursuant to article VI, section 6 of the California Constitution.

<sup>1</sup> All statutory references are to the Government Code unless otherwise noted.

Code, § 6-1701 et seq.; tree [***2] ordinance) are barred by section 65009, subdivision \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), we agree with Save Lafayette Trees that its claim under the California Environmental Quality Act \(CEQA\) \(Pub. Resources Code, § 21000 et seq.\) was timely filed and served under Public Resources Code sections 21167, subdivision \(a\) and 21167.6, subdivision \(a\). Accordingly, we shall affirm the order sustaining the demurrer as to the second, third, and fourth causes of action but reverse the order sustaining the demurrer to the first cause of action.

Background

On March 27, 2017, the city approved the agreement with PG&E which authorized and imposed conditions on the removal of up to 272 trees within its local natural gas pipeline rights-of-way.<sup>2</sup> The staff report prepared in connection with the agreement explains, “The removal of 216 protected trees constitutes a Major Tree Removal Project per the [Lafayette Municipal Code]. Under the tree protection regulations, for this tree removal project PG&E would be required to (1) provide information regarding the project, (2) obtain a tree removal permit, and (3) provide mitigation for the removed trees. [¶] PG&E is willing to comply with the intent of the tree protection regulations and will provide the requested information and all applicable mitigation. However, PG&E has taken the position that it is exempt from obtaining any [***3] discretionary permits, including a tree removal permit. City staff disagrees with this position. To ensure that the [community pipeline safety initiative] can move forward and to protect the public safety, PG&E and City staff have agreed to process the [community pipeline safety initiative] tree removal project under [Lafayette Municipal Code] section 6-1705(b)(S). This section allows the city to allow removal of a protected tree ‘to protect the health, safety and general welfare of the community.’ City staff is willing to process the [community pipeline safety initiative] under this provision as long as PG&E provides all requested information and pays all applicable mitigation fees.”

On June 26, 2017, Save Lafayette Trees filed a petition challenging the city's action. The petition was served the following day.

[*627]

The petition's first cause of action alleges the city failed to comply with CEQA before approving the agreement. The second cause of action alleges that the city approved the agreement in violation of the [***225] substantive and procedural requirements of the planning and zoning law, the city's general plan, and the tree ordinance (collectively, planning and zoning law claims). The third cause of action alleges [***4] the city violated the due process rights of the individual petitioners by failing to provide sufficient notice of the hearing at which the agreement was approved. The fourth cause of action alleges the city “proceeded in excess of its authority and abused its discretion in approving the tree removal agreement without compliance with CEQA, the [planning and zoning law], the city's general plan, the Municipal Code, and the due process clause of the California Constitution” in violation of Code of Civil Procedure sections 1085 and 1094.5. An amended petition was filed in August 2017 realleging the same causes of action.

PG&E filed a demurrer to the amended petition on the ground that it was barred by section 65009, subdivision \(c\)\(1\)\(E\), which requires that an action challenging a decision regarding a zoning permit be filed and served within 90 days of the decision. PG&E explained that while the original petition was timely filed on June 26, 2017, the original petition was not served until after the 90-day deadline. The city joined in PG&E's demurrer. Save Lafayette Trees opposed the demurrer on the ground its claims fall outside the scope of section 65009 and that, even if section 65009 applies to its planning and zoning law claims, its CEQA claim was timely filed and served under the longer limitations period [***5] provided under the Public Resources Code.

The trial court sustained the demurrer without leave to amend, finding that the “action was not served on either [the city or] PG&E within the 90-day period for filing and service required by the applicable statute of limitations set forth in [\[section\] 65009\(c\)\(1\)\(E\)](#), and is thus time-barred.” The court entered a judgment dismissing the petition.

Save Lafayette Trees then filed a motion to vacate the judgment arguing, among other things, that its planning and zoning law claims were subject to the statute of limitations found in section 6-236 of the city's Municipal Code rather than section 65009. The court denied the motion.

Save Lafayette Trees timely filed a notice of appeal from the judgment and denial of its motion to vacate.

Discussion

1. Standard of review

HNI[↑] The trial court's decision to sustain the demurrers without leave to amend is reviewed de novo. In conducting the review, this court exercises its [*628] independent judgment to determine whether the action can proceed under any legal theory. (Honig v. San Francisco Planning Dept. (2005) 127 Cal.App.4th 520, 524 [25 Cal. Rptr. 3d 649].) Leave to amend should not be granted if the pleadings disclose the action is barred by a statute of limitations. (Ibid.)

<sup>2</sup>PG&E's request for judicial notice of the agreement and related documents in the administrative record is granted.

2. The causes of action based on violations of the planning and zoning law claims [***6] were not timely served under section 65009.

HN2 [↑] CA(1) [↑] (1) The planning and zoning law establishes the authority of most local government entities to regulate the use of land. (Topanga Assn. for a Scenic Community v. County of Los Angeles (1974) 11 Cal.3d 506, 518–519, fn. 18 [113 Cal.Rptr. 836, 522 P.2d 12].) Under the planning and zoning law, each county and city must “adopt a comprehensive, long-term general plan for the physical development of the county or city ... .” (§ 65300.) The general plan consists of a “statement of development policies ... setting forth objectives, principles, standards, and plan proposals.” (§ 65302.) “Subordinate to a general plan [***226] are zoning laws, which regulate the geographic allocation and allowed uses of land. [Citation.] [¶] ‘Zoning laws regulate land uses in two basic ways. Some uses are permitted as a matter of right if the uses conform to the zoning ordinance. Other sensitive land uses require discretionary administrative approval pursuant to criteria in the zoning ordinance. [Citation.] They require a conditional use permit.’” (Gonzalez v. County of Tulare (1998) 65 Cal.App.4th 777, 784–785 [76 Cal. Rptr. 2d 707].) HN3 [↑] CA(2) [↑] (2) To provide certainty for property owners and local governments regarding decisions by local agencies made pursuant to the planning and zoning law, the Legislature enacted “a short, 90-day statute of limitations, applicable to both the filing and service of challenges to a broad range [***7] of local zoning and planning decisions.” (Honig v. San Francisco Planning Dept., supra, 127 Cal.App.4th at p. 526; see § 65009, subs. (a)(3), (c)(1).)

CA(3) [↑] (3) As relevant here, section 65009, subdivision (c)(1), provides that “no action or proceeding shall be maintained in any of the following cases by any person unless the action or proceeding is commenced and service is made on the legislative body within 90 days after the legislative body’s decision: [¶] ... [¶] (E) To attack, review, set aside, void, or annul any decision on the matters listed in Sections 65901 and 65903, or to determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any condition attached to a variance, conditional use permit, or any other permit.” HN4 [↑] The “matters listed” in sections 65901 and 65903 include “conditional uses or other permits when the zoning ordinance provides therefor” and “variances from the terms of the zoning ordinance.” (§ 65901, subd. (a); see also Travis v. County of Santa Cruz (2004) 33 Cal.4th 757, 766, fn. 2 [16

Cal. Rptr. 3d 404, 94 P.3d 538] [§§ 65901 and 65903 “provide for hearing and decision on, and administrative appeals concerning, applications for variances, conditional use permits, and other permits.”]; [***629] Royalty Carpet Mills, Inc. v. City of Irvine (2005) 125 Cal.App.4th 1110, 1119, fn. 6 [23 Cal. Rptr. 3d 282] (Royalty) [same].) Section 65009, subdivision (c)(1)(E) is to be applied broadly to all types of challenges to permits and permit conditions, as long as the challenge rests on a “decision” of a local authority relating to a permit or seeks to “determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any condition attached to [***8] a ... conditional use permit, or any other permit.” (Travis, supra, at pp. 766–768.) In short, an action challenging “any decision” by a “legislative body” regarding a variance, a conditional use permit, or other permit provided for by a local zoning ordinance must be filed and served within 90 days of the decision.

CA(4) [↑] (4) The open space and conservation element of the city’s general plan includes findings reflecting the value of protected trees to the city and calls for “protection for significant native trees and woodlands” under the tree ordinance. (City of Lafayette General Plan, Open Space and Conservation Element, Res. No. 2002-56 (Oct. 28, 2002) § III-7.) The tree ordinance is a zoning ordinance, located in the “Planning and Land Use” title of the city’s Municipal Code. HNS [↑] Section 6-1704 requires a permit for the removal of a protected tree and sections 6-1706 and 6-1707 authorize the imposition of reasonable conditions on the permit. Depending on the level of permit sought, either the planning and building department director or, among others, the planning commission or city council is charged with approving the permit. (Lafayette Mun. Code, §§ 6-1706, 6-1707.) Under section 6-1705(b)(5), an applicant may seek an exception to the requirements of the tree ordinance when “the city [***9] must remove a protected tree to protect the [***227] health, safety and general welfare of the community.”

CA(5) [↑] (5) Although here the city entered into an agreement approving the removal of trees under section 6-1705 of the city’s Municipal Code, rather than issuing a “permit” for their removal, there is no meaningful difference between the two in this instance. In its original petition, Save Lafayette Trees characterized the city’s decision as a “permit[] allowing land use” and in its amended complaint as an “approval[] allowing land use.” Both are properly considered decisions relating to the matters listed in sections 65901 and 65903. Accordingly, the city’s decision falls squarely within the scope of section 65009.

CA(6) [↑] (6) The arguments made by Save Lafayette Trees to the contrary are not persuasive. Save Lafayette Trees argues, “section 65009 is a statute adopted to address California's 'housing crisis' by 'reduc[ing] delays and restraints upon expeditiously completing housing projects.' (... § 65009\(a\)\(1\).) It does not by its terms, or even by implication, apply to the city's contract with PG&E to remove mature trees along public hiking trails." HN6 [↑] Although one of the three findings made by the Legislature with respect to section 65009 [*630] relates to housing,<sup>3</sup> nothing in section 65009, subdivision \(c\)\(1\), restricts its application [***10] to decisions involving housing. As set forth above, courts have interpreted the statute as applying to challenges to a broad range of local zoning and planning decisions. (See, e.g., [Urgent Care Medical Services v. City of Pasadena \(2018\) 21 Cal.App.5th 1086, 1096 \[230 Cal. Rptr. 3d 892\]](#) [ordinance prohibiting medical marijuana dispensaries]; [Okasaki v. City of Elk Grove \(2012\) 203 Cal.App.4th 1043, 1048 \[137 Cal. Rptr. 3d 873\]](#) [variance to landowners, in order to authorize pool and spa in setback zone].)

CA\(7\) [↑] (7) Next, Save Lafayette Trees argues that section 65009 is not applicable because the city was not "acting in one of the roles specified in sections 65901 and 65903, i.e., as a board of zoning adjustment, zoning administrator or a board of appeal." However, HN7 [↑] section 65009 expressly incorporates the "matters" listed in sections 65901 and 65903, regardless of the legislative body charged with making the decision. The courts "have rejected the notion that the reviewing body, rather than the underlying decision being reviewed, determines the applicability of Section 65009." (AIDS Healthcare Foundation, Inc. v. City & County of San Francisco \(N.D.Cal. 2016\) 208 F.Supp.3d 1095, 1101, and cases there cited.) To the extent that [People v. Gates \(1974\) 41 Cal.App.3d 590, 596–598 \[116 Cal. Rptr. 172\]](#), decided under subsequently repealed section 65907, implies the contrary, we disagree. "The language of Section 65009 is broad. It covers 'any decision' on the 'matters listed' in Sections 65901 and 65903" (AIDS Healthcare Foundation, Inc., supra, at p. 1100) and it therefore applies to the decision approving the tree removal contract.

Save Lafayette Trees also argues that its action is subject to the longer, 180-day statute of limitations [***11] found in the city's Municipal Code section 6-236, which formerly read, "An action ... to attack, review, set aside or annul a decision of the city council under this title ... shall not be maintained by any person unless the action ... is brought within 180 days after the date of the decision."<sup>4</sup> Although the city [***228] raises several sound procedural grounds for rejecting this argument, we, like the trial court, choose to reject the claim on the merits. We agree with the trial court that Municipal Code section 6-236 was preempted by section 65009.

HN8 [↑] CA\(8\) [↑] (8) Section 65009 makes clear that no action or proceeding challenging a local legislative body's decision regarding matters listed in sections 65901 and 65903 shall be maintained unless it is filed and served within 90 days of [*631] the challenged decision. (§ 65009, subd. \(c\)\(1\), \(1\)\(E\).)<sup>5</sup> HN9 [↑] CA\(9\) [↑] (9) Otherwise valid, local legislation that conflicts with state law is preempted by such law and is void. ([Sherwin-Williams Co. v. City of Los Angeles \(1993\) 4 Cal.4th 893, 897 \[16 Cal. Rptr. 2d 215, 844 P.2d 534\]](#).) "A conflict exists if the local legislation "duplicates, contradicts, or enters an area fully occupied by general law, either expressly or by legislative implication." [Citations.] [¶] Local legislation is 'duplicative' of general law when it is coextensive therewith. [Citation.] [¶] Similarly, local legislation is 'contradictory' to general law when [***12] it is inimical thereto." (Id. at pp. 897–898.) Insofar as section 65009 applies to the present action and expressly conflicts with the local ordinance, it preempts the local ordinance.

Relying on [Pan Pacific Properties, Inc. v. County of Santa Cruz \(1978\) 81 Cal.App.3d 244, 252 \[146 Cal. Rptr. 428\]](#) (Pan Pacific), Save Lafayette Trees argues that the local ordinance is not preempted by section 65009 because the Legislature has not "evinced an intent to occupy the field in the planning and zoning law area." Because the state and local statutes directly conflict, we need not decide whether section 65009 preempts the local ordinance on this alternative ground. We note, however, that the reasoning in Pan Pacific arguably is no longer persuasive in light of subsequent legislative action expanding the scope of the statute of limitations under the planning and zoning law. (See Barclay & Gray, California Land Use and Planning Law (35th ed. 2016) p. 529 ["In Pan Pacific Properties, Inc. v. County of Santa Cruz, the court held that a county ordinance that established a 30-day statute of limitations for judicial review of county zoning ordinances was not preempted by state law, since at the time the Planning and Zoning Law contained no statute specifically applicable to such challenges. [Citation].

<sup>4</sup> PG&E's request for judicial notice of the documents relating to the repeal of section 6-236 and of an ordinance adopted by the City of Temecula is denied on the ground of relevance.

<sup>3</sup> Section 65009, subdivision \(a\)\(1\) reads, "The Legislature finds and declares that there currently is a housing crisis in California and it is essential to reduce delays and restraints upon expeditiously completing housing projects."

<sup>5</sup> Although the statute provides an exception for any law with a shorter limitations period (§ 65009, subd. \(g\)), Municipal Code former section 6-236 plainly did not provide a shorter limitations period.

However, since Pan Pacific was decided, the Legislature [***13] has enacted and amended ... section 65009 to establish statutes of limitations applicable to most, if not all, planning and zoning decisions.”.)

Finally, Save Lafayette Trees argues that it is excused from compliance with section 65009 because the city failed to provide its members with written notice prior to the city council's meeting as required by section 65905<sup>6</sup> and the due process clause of the California Constitution. [**229] According [**632] to Save Lafayette Trees, respondents “cannot avail themselves of section 65009's statute of limitations because the city failed to provide the public access, due process and procedural uniformity required by the [planning and zoning law].” Save Lafayette Trees has failed to allege, however, facts to support its contention that its members were entitled to personal notice. The amended complaint alleges generally that “Many members of Save Lafayette Trees and their supporters, and other members of the public, reside within 300 feet of the trees slated for removal pursuant to the tree removal agreement.” The specific allegations regarding petitioners state only that Michael Dawson is “a city resident and homeowner” and that David Kosters “resides in the city,” that they and their families “regularly use and enjoy the healthy, [***14] mature trees that PG&E proposes to remove pursuant to the tree removal agreement,” and that they “reside in proximity to trees that would be removed” under the agreement. These facts do not establish that either petitioner lives within 300 feet of any of the trees to be removed or was entitled to greater service than other members of the general public.<sup>7</sup> As respondents note, the public was given notice under the Ralph M. Brown Act \(§ 54950 et seq.\) in advance of the March 27 hearing that the city council would be reviewing “the PG&E Community Pipeline Safety Initiative requiring the removal of 216 protected trees” and deciding whether to authorize the city manager to execute the agreement with PG&E.

Accordingly, the trial court properly sustained without leave to amend the city's demurrer to the second, third and fourth causes of action.<sup>8</sup>

3. The CEQA cause of action was timely filed and served under Public Resources Code sections 21167 and 21167.6.

Save Lafayette Trees contends that section 65009 is not applicable to the CEQA cause of action because it conflicts with the more specific CEQA [**633] limitations period found in Public Resources Code sections 21167, subdivision \(a\) and 21167.6, subdivision \(a\). Under Public Resources Code section 21167, subdivision \(a\), an action “alleging that a public agency is carrying out or has approved a project that may have a significant effect on the environment [***15] without having determined whether the project may have a significant effect on the environment shall be commenced within 180 days from the date of the public agency's decision to carry out or approve the project.” [**230] Under Public Resources Code section 21167.6, subdivision \(a\), the complaint or petition “shall be served personally upon the public agency not later than 10 business days from the date that the action or proceeding was filed.” Thus, under the Public Resources Code provisions, the complaint in this action was timely filed and served.

HN10[↑] CA\(10\)[↑] (10) “As a general rule, when two statutes relate to the same subject, the more specific one will control unless they can be reconciled. [Citations.] When the two statutes can be reconciled, they must be construed ‘in reference to each other, so as to “harmonize the two in such a way that no part of either becomes surplusage.”’” (Royalty, supra, 125 Cal.App.4th at p. 1118.)

<sup>6</sup> Section 65905 reads: “(a) Except as otherwise provided by this article, a public hearing shall be held on an application for a variance from the requirements of a zoning ordinance, an application for a conditional use permit or equivalent development permit, a proposed revocation or modification of a variance or use permit or equivalent development permit, or an appeal from the action taken on any of those applications. [¶] (b) Notice of a hearing held pursuant to subdivision \(a\) shall be given pursuant to Section 65091.” Section 65091, subdivision \(a\)\(4\) requires that “Notice of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered at least 10 days prior to the hearing to all owners of real property as shown on the latest equalized assessment roll within 300 feet of the real property that is the subject of the hearing. ...”

<sup>7</sup> Save Lafayette Trees does not contend this deficiency can be cured by amendment.

<sup>8</sup> Save Lafayette Trees acknowledges, “Under settled law, the statute of limitations applicable to [its] due process claims derives from the statute or ordinance on which those claims are based.” Thus, because its due process claim “arises from the city's failure to comply with the 10-day public notice provisions” before approving the agreement, this claim is also barred. Similarly, the question of which statute of limitations applies to a Code of Civil Procedure section 1085 mandamus action is to be resolved “not by the remedy prayed for but by the nature of the underlying right or obligation that the action seeks to enforce.” ([Branciforte Heights, LLC v. City of Santa Cruz \(2006\) 138 Cal.App.4th 914, 926 \[42 Cal. Rptr. 3d 96\]](#).) Save Lafayette Trees cannot rely on Code of Civil Procedure section 338's three-year statute of limitations that is applicable to actions “upon a liability created by statute” to extend the limitations period on its barred claims. (Cf. Travis v. County of Santa Cruz, supra, 33 Cal.4th at p. 771; [Urban Habitat Program v. City of Pleasanton \(2008\) 164 Cal.App.4th 1561, 1576–1577 \[80 Cal. Rptr. 3d 300\]](#).)

There is no dispute that section 65009, subdivision \(c\)\(1\)\(E\) and Public Resources Code sections 21167 and 21167.6 both relate to the same subject: the time period within which service of a petition challenging approval of a zoning permit must be made. (Royalty, supra, 125 Cal.App.4th at p. 1121 [“[C]hallenges under the Public Resources Code constitute a subset of general challenges to conditional use permits.”].) If the statutes cannot be harmonized, the more specific Public Resources Code provisions [***16] govern. (Id. at p. 1122; see also Committee for a Progressive Gilroy v. State Water Resources Control Bd. (1987) 192 Cal.App.3d 847, 859 [237 Cal. Rptr. 723] [CEQA statute of limitations, rather than statute of limitations of Porter-Cologne Water Quality Control Act \(Wat. Code, § 13000 et seq.\), govern CEQA claims.])

In Royalty, the court found that the service requirements under the two provisions could be reconciled because the time period for service under the Public Resources Code is not a strict time limit. (Royalty, supra, 125 Cal.App.4th at p. 1122, citing Board of Supervisors v. Superior Court (1994) 23 Cal.App.4th 830, 848 [28 Cal. Rptr. 2d 560] Compliance with the time requirements set forth in [Pub. Resources Code, § 21167.6 may be excused for “good cause.”].) To give effect to the language of both statutes, the court reasoned that the shorter 40-day period for filing and service of the action, provided by Public Resources Code sections 21167, subdivision \(b\)<sup>9</sup> and 21167.6, was effective absent a showing of good cause for an extension of the time for service, and the longer period, provided by [Government Code section \[\*634\] 65009, subdivision \(c\)\(1\)\(E\)](#), established the outer limit by which the action must be served. The court explained that “To accomplish the Legislature’s purpose of limiting the time in which a decision regarding a conditional use permit can be challenged by filing and serving a petition, in no event can service of the petition be accomplished beyond the 90-day time bar contained in the Government Code. To conclude otherwise would be to ignore the absolute limitations bar contained in ... section 65009.” ([***17] Royalty, supra, at p. 1123.)

CA\(II\)[↑] (11) Save Lafayette Trees correctly distinguishes the holding in Royalty on the ground that this case involves the longer time limit in Public Resources Code section 21167, subdivision \(a\) rather than the 30-day limit found in subdivision \(b\). In Royalty the more specific provision in the Public Resources Code imposed a shorter limitation period, whereas in this case HNII[↑] requiring service within 90 days would impermissibly [***231] cut in half the 180-day period allowed for filing the CEQA action under the Public Resources Code. That conflict cannot be reconciled.

Accordingly, the trial court erred in sustaining the demurrer to the first cause of action.

Disposition

As to causes of action two, three, and four, the order sustaining the demurrers is affirmed. As to cause of action one, the order sustaining the city’s demurrer is reversed, and the trial court is directed to enter an order vacating its previous order and enter an order overruling the demurrer as to that cause of action. The parties shall bear their own costs on appeal.

Siggins, P. J., and Ross, J.,* concurred.

---

End of Document

---

<sup>9</sup>Under Public Resources Code section 21167, subdivision \(b\), “An action or proceeding alleging that a public agency has improperly determined whether a project may have a significant effect on the environment shall be commenced within 30 days from the date of the filing of the notice required by subdivision \(a\) of Section 21108 or subdivision \(a\) of Section 21152.”

---

* Judge of the San Francisco Superior Court, assigned by the Chief Justice pursuant to article VI, section 6 of the California Constitution.